Winona Backs Doctor Proposal

Community To Seek Resident Physician

Officers of a citizens committee were elected last night by a group of Winona residents who endorsed the idea of attempting to secure a community doctor at Winona.

The Winona Ruritan Club, which called last night's meeting, instigated the project of procuring a doctor in the village with the hope that community residents would approve the project, and that a citizens committee would be formed. The session was held in the Winona Methodist Church.

Elmer Stamp was elected chairman of the steering committee, with other officials James Rhodes Jr., vice chairman; Mrs. Esther Cope, secretary, and Mrs. Alice Satterthwait, treasurer.

Six directors chosen are John Miller, Rev. Hubert Adey, Donald Murphy, Mrs. Vivian Skeels, Mrs. Leora Stamp, Mrs. Bertha Ward. Alternate directors are Mrs. Olive Taylor, Maynard Brantingham and Willis Zimmerman.

Donald Murphy, president of the Ruritan Club, acted as chairman and introduced Mrs. Evelyn Smith of Salineville and Charles Gaust of Hanoverton who told how their respective communities obtained a resident doctor.

Gaust said that Hanoverton received nearly 200 applicants for the position, after citizens committee members wrote to the medical journals. Mrs. Smith explained that the Salineville residents corresponded with the Ohio State Medical Association.

Stamp said that the citizens committee steering group will begin immediately to contact medical journals and the Ohio State Medical Association in search of a doctor. And, following responses from those groups, they probably will screen applicants for the position.

Edgar Brosius, 80, Dies In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH — Edgar E. Brosius, who manufactured fabricating equipment here for almost 50 years, died Tuesday at the age of 80.

A native of Alliance, Ohio, he headed the Edgar E. Brosius Co., selling his interest in 1948.

The firm is now known as Salem Brosius, having bought out the Salem Engineering Co. several years ago.

FLU SWEEPS AUSTRALIA

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Asian flu is sweeping across northeast Australia and already has struck 1,700 persons in the coastal town of Innisfail. Medical authorities said the cases reported so far have been mild.

When the 76 Boy Scouts and six leaders from Columbiana County Council arrive in historic Valley Forge, Pa., Thursday for the National Boy Scout Jamboree, a huge "steamboat" will accompany them.

The steamboat replica has been built in prefabricated fashion in four separate partitions which will be placed at the entranceway to the Columbiana scout region at the jamboree.

The boat is shown above, with a number of the county scouts, known as "the Buckskin Men of Region 4" posed in front of her. Flags on either end denote Troops 18 and 24, the organized Jamboree units. All of the boys are wearing T-shirts centered with the ship emblem. For other pictures of the county scouts preparing for the Jamboree turn to Page 5.

Bond Issue To Be Put On Fall Ballots

Council Plans Big Program Of Storm Sewer Improvements

A bond issue is expected to be put on the Nov. 5 ballots here to finance a storm water sewer line program.

Designed to eliminate trouble points throughout the city, the improvements will call for corrective installations and new lines it is explained by Rudy Linder, chairman of City Council's sewers committee.

The exact amount of the bond issue will be determined by August after City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff completes his cost estimates, Linder explained. Other councilmen on the committee are Harold Asty and Alroy Bloomberg.

The storm sewer program is designed to eliminate flooding conditions which occur now during heavy rains. The new installations will get the flood water into main trunk lines for a quicker run-off, Linder said.

Proposed Improvements

Areas to be improved, if the voters approve the bond issue, are:

Prospect School, Kelley Park area.
Newgarden Ave. near Pennsylvania railroad tracks.
South Ellsworth Ave.
N. Ellsworth Ave., Eight St. and 12th St. areas.
N. Lincoln Ave. south of Ninth St.

E. Sixth St. extension south to Fourth and Fifth Streets and west to Lincoln.
Franklin Ave., Southeast Blvd. area.

E. Pershing St. near C. B. Hunt & Son Co.
Brooklyn Ave., Third and Cleveland St. area.
Jones Drive, Newgarden St. area.
Fair Ave., Jefferson and Adams St.

Linder said that a study is being made to remove storm water from sanitary sewers on E. State St., Ohio Ave. and also E. 8th St. A lot of these connections date back to the year 1915, he pointed out.

Utilities Superintendent Aubrey Hayes, who has been supervising a survey of downspout connections to sanitary sewers, has had from 25 to 30 of them removed.

GIRL DROWNING VICTIM

CLEVELAND (AP)—While a sister and two brothers watched helplessly, 14-year-old Mary Powalle of Euclid slipped off a sand bar at a private beach Tuesday and drowned. None of the children could swim well.

The board said 443 votes were cast in favor of the levy with 119 opposed.

Requiring a 60 per cent affirmative vote to pass, the levy received 106 more votes than was needed.

The levy received heavy endorsement in the East Rochester and Bayard precincts, but fell one vote

Local Groups Join CD Alert

Civilian Defense Units To Get Test

The city air raid siren will sound shrill warnings Friday noon to inaugurate a Civil Defense test by local officials which will terminate Sunday night.

Local CD officials are working in conjunction with Mahoning, Trumbull, and Columbiana counties as well as two Pennsylvania counties, explained William Wark, local and county civilian defense director.

Theoretical and actual evacuations will be practiced and "casualties" will be handled. The path of "radioactive fallout" from a supposed bomb invasion will be ascertained through local mechanical facilities. The Salem Civil Defense group will attempt to monitor activities through its own equipment and that of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Defense Corps to Be Busy

Companies A and C of the 31st battalion, third infantry of the Ohio Defense Corps will take part in the national Civil Defense alert Friday through Sunday.

Members of the two companies are urged to attend a meeting to night at 7 in the American Legion Home to receive full instructions from William Wark, county CD director.

Capt. John Herman Jr. is commanding officer of Company A, with the executive officer, Lt. William Frederick; and Lt. Allen Russell commands Company C, with Lt. Eugene Eoff acting as executive officer.

On Friday, the two companies will form an escort convoy to North Jackson; and on Saturday, will furnish security guards for the third area headquarters in Alliance.

Defense problems in coordination with the CD evacuation will be worked out Sunday afternoon by the two corps companies.

The weekend program will be coordinated with the overall Civil Defense program being held in the area.

West Local Sanctions Levy By 443-119 Vote

West Local school district voters overwhelmingly approved an 8-mill current expense operating levy at a special election Tuesday, the county election board announced today.

The board said 443 votes were cast in favor of the levy with 119 opposed.

Requiring a 60 per cent affirmative vote to pass, the levy received 106 more votes than was needed.

The levy received heavy endorsement in the East Rochester and Bayard precincts, but fell one vote

Lisbon School Levy Proposed

Would Provide Funds For Salary Hikes

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday evening voted to place a 4-mill levy on the ballots of the November election.

The proposed levy consists of a 2½-mill renewal and 1½-mill additional tax. The new millage would provide funds for increases in teachers' salaries.

The levy would be in effect five years and is designed to produce approximately $35,000.

The board also passed the 1958 budget which amounts to $403,705. If the proposed levy is defeated, the school system will receive only $368,528, $35,176 short of the budget.

Mrs. Beatrice L. McCormick of East Liverpool Rd. was hired by the board to teach the third grade at Lincoln School. She will replace Mrs. Irma Beede who will teach at Boardman this year.

Mrs. McCormick has a bachelor of science degree in education, having graduated from Kent State University, and has six hours towards her master degree. She formerly taught in East Liverpool, Caledonia, West Point, and Beaver Local Schools.

The board discussed the purchase of two adjusters for the water heaters in the cafeterias at Lincoln and McKinley schools.

Janitors are repairing the seats in the high school gymnasium, it was reported. They have sanded the basketball floor and remarked the playing court with the new wide foul lines which will be used by high schools for the first time this year, the board heard.

The board also discussed the two leaking hot water heaters in the high school. It was decided to make them last for another year due to the limited budget at the present time.

The next regular meeting will be held Aug. 6.

LISBON — Fifty-five shepherds of Columbiana and Mahoning counties met Tuesday evening at the L. F. Kohler Sons farm at Evans Lake, near Poland, and heard Ralph Grimshaw, sheep specialist from Ohio State University, speak on various phases of sheep management.

Some Observers Think Zhukov Is Actual Strong Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. experts on Russia were reported split today on their estimates of the amount of real power now exercised by Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev in the wake of the Kremlin shakeup.

So far they have come up with three estimates covering major possibilities:

1. Khrushchev is well along the way to becoming a virtual dictator. The system of collective rule which was installed upon Stalin's death for years ago is doomed.

2. Khrushchev is still the "first among equals" or the "chairman of the board" of a collective rule system. With his most formidable critics out of the way, however, he can now expect far more support and much less opposition.

3. Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov may be the real strong man. Zhukov represents the military power, and Khrushchev could not have continued as Communist party boss without his support.

These varied theories reflect a lack of hard information.

State Department officials have been deeply interested in reports from Communist sources, mainly in Eastern Europe, that Khrushchev's foes in the Presidium precipitated the crisis that resulted in their ouster. They were V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich, Georgi Malenkov and Dmitri Shepilov.

Khrushchev has accused the four of trying to seize power. They have been denounced for wanting to return to Stalinism, which seems to suggest that they favored a reversion to dictatorship and that Khrushchev and Zhukov were against it.

U.S. officials say privately they are not at all certain what issue focused the dissension or even whether the policy questions were

Almond Easily Wins Virginia Primary

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. emerged today an easy winner in the Democratic primary race for governor, defeating Richmond attorney Howard H. Carville 108,613 to 29,682, with returns from 1,561 of 1,905 precincts.

The one-sidedness of the primary race had been expected by political observers. Carville, often an independent candidate for various state and local offices, was in his first race in the Democratic primary, and ran up his largest vote total.

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley under Virginia law can not succeed himself. Almond has the endorsement of the Byrd-led Democratic organization.

In November Almond, 59, will face state Sen. Ted Dalton, 56, who many believe is the most personable and effective vote-getter Virginia Republicans have ever had to carry their standard. He scared the Democrats in 1953 when he captured 45 per cent of the vote in a race with Stanley.

Fruit Growers To Build Plant

Cooperative Is Given Support At Meeting

One hundred and twenty-five shares of stock were subscribed last night at a meeting of about 100 fruit growers who met at Greenford High School to discuss the organizing and building of a cooperative grading and packing house at Greenford.

A. A. Less, president of the Salem Fruit Growers Cooperative Association, presided at the session which attracted growers in Mahoning, Columbiana, Trumbull, Portage counties and counties in western Pennsylvania.

Between 250 and 300 shares of stock must be sold by the fruit growers to ensure the building plan of a building 80 by 100 feet, it was explained. The plant would have modern grading, packing and bagging equipment, with one room of the present cold storage plant to be used.

The plan is to build the packing plant adjacent to the present cooperative cold storage plant at Greenford which is owned by the Fruit Growers Cooperative Association.

Total investment for the building, equipment and working capital is estimated at from $40,000 to $50,000.

Plan of Operation

Each share of class C preferred stock will entitle a grower who is a member to grade and pack 500 bushels of apples. Each grower may sell his own apples or they may be sold through the Ohio Fruit Marketing Association, since the packing house will not maintain a sales agency of its own.

The present preferred stock in the cold storage cooperative will become Class A preferred stock with cumulative five per cent dividends; and the present common stock will be class B with non-cumulative dividends not to exceed eight per cent. Stock for the packing house will be class C preferred with non-cumulative dividends not to exceed eight per cent. This stock will have a $100 par value.

Common stock will have a par value of $10 with no dividends, with each member holding only one share of common stock. Earn.

Eight More File Election Petitions

Eight more non-partisan candidates, including a city board of education candidate, have filed petitions for the Nov. 5 general election, the county election board said today.

William F. Barry Jr. of 636 Perry St., has filed for the Board of Education.

Others who have filed include Cecil McDole for West Township constable; Paul E. Johnson for Washington Township constable; Ernest Wolff, Butler Township trustee; Roland Gorby, Middleton Township trustee; and Lorain Foulks, Della Flate and Fred Hopper, St. Clair Township trustee.

The filing is expected to pick up noticeably in the next few weeks with the deadline set Aug. 7, Frank O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

Conference Held By President, Sen. Russell

Some GOP Leaders Think Measure's Terms Too Stringent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said after a conference with President Eisenhower today that Eisenhower's "mind is not closed to amendments which would clarify" the administration's civil rights bill.

Russell, quarterbacking Southern forces opposed to the legislation in the Senate, told newsmen Eisenhower is against enactment of any "punitive" measure.

Eisenhower and Russell talked over the bill for about 50 minutes at the White House.

Although Russell said Eisenhower has an open mind with respect to the possibility of clarifying amendments, the senator refused to express an opinion as to whether the administration will back such amendments.

Not Closed To Amendments

"The President's mind is open," Russell said. "It is not closed to amendments which would clarify the bill."

In advance of Russell's conference with Eisenhower there were hints at the Senate that sponsors of the administration measure probably will consider compromises.

Eisenhower himself has described the civil rights measure as "moderate," but said last week there were certain phrases he found hard to understand.

Eisenhower was reported Tuesday to have talked over with Atty. Gen. Brownell the language the President had rated obscure. After that session administration backers said Eisenhower held to his original view that the proposal is "moderate" and desirable.

Salem Family Hurt At Huntington, W. Va.

Three members of a Salem family were among five persons injured when their automobile struck a tree near Huntington, W. Va., Tuesday.

Injured were Astor B. Crider, 33, of the Benton Road, MC 24, and his two children, Dean, aged 6, and Jeanette, 9; and two sisters of Mrs. Crider, JoAnn and Margaret Blackburn, both of Endicott, Ky.

Mrs. Crider was unhurt.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, Crider and the Blackburn sisters are in critical condition at a Huntington hospital. The Criders were believed to have been en route home from visiting relatives. They moved to Salem from Prestonburg, Ky., in 1951. Mr. Crider, who is a finished ware inspector at the Eljer Co. plant here, previously was employed by the Quaker City Foundry.

Simple Life For Him

By HAL BOYLE

NEAR MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Here lives a man who can whip inflation by the only possible way. He doesn't buy much. He rarely spends in public. He lives by a personal standard above the changing dollar.

"This is no stunt with me," said Bert Garner, a tall, bent intellectual who at the age of 71 points out he can and does at times exist at the rate of 15 cents a day—or less.

He hand grinds corn and soybeans, puts in a little chocolate or powdered milk, and makes a meal of it and says he is satisfied.

Bert can still climb 25 to 30 miles a day through the Great Smoky Mountains. "I prefer simple ways," he says.

To understand Bert you have to know him a bit. He doesn't fit any pigeonhole you know. He never will. If he found out he did, he would change.

Bert has studied at a number of universities across the country. He worked in all kinds of wandering jobs. He spent about a dozen years with the U. S. immigration people.

He lives now all alone in a woodland building of his choice. It is a two-room cabin he built 37 years ago. It is in the area where his ancestors arrived some 100 years ago—or nearly.

Bert is slender, white-haired, widely read, and cheerfully proud that his way of life isn't for the family man.

He has a major criticism of civilization as most of us know about it—and, on occasion, complain about it.

"They're in a rat race, trying to keep up with the Joneses. Sometimes I feel that it is a good thing some people work so hard. "Our education system doesn't prepare people for the right kind of leisure. You can work, or you can live. I like to live."

Bert himself, who is interested in such momentous questions as the distribution of snakes in the 50-acre wilderness in which he built his cabin, also knows that to a disciple of nature and considered indolence there can be no spare time.

The woodchuck is his neighbor. At the moment seven skunks live under and out of his cabin.

"We get along fine," he said. "They come out at the whippoorwill's dusk, and go back at the whippoorwill's dawn. I tell people I live in Paradise. I do."

Bert has worked in New York and Philadelphia, studied on the West Coast. But either a greatness or weakness in his being has always brought him home to his woodland cabin near the hills of his birth. He figures he has held a job only 20 of his 71 years, and some of those 20 years were wasted.

In an era of creeping inflation the area of his desire enlarges none. The berries along the mountain trail red his palate and his path.

His home has no plumbing, no electric lights, no radio, no television, no telephone. His utility bill—two gallons of kerosene to light his lamps—is 38 cents a year.

"No man raising a family could live as I do," he said, and when asked what was the main virtue of his unusual way of life, he replied: "Freedom."

Technicality Gives Freedom To Convict

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio Penitentiary convict has won his freedom through the failure of a grand jury foreman to sign an armed robbery indictment against him.

The case set a precedent in Ohio law, according to Judge Myron B. Gessaman of Franklin County Common Pleas Court, who ordered the release Tuesday of James L. Kennedy, 30, of Canton.

Kennedy, who asked the court to review his case, was sentenced from Canton to serve a 10-25 year term. He entered prison May 31, 1956.

On July 8, 1955, Kennedy was indicted by a Stark County grand jury after he pleaded innocent but, Judge Gessaman said, the jury foreman failed to sign the indictment, and it is "clear that the intention of the General Assembly was that the signature of the foreman is an indispensable requisite to a valid indictment."

All proceedings following the indictment were declared void by Judge Gessaman, who ruled Kennedy's "commitment to and detention in the penitentiary . . . illegal."

Super-sensitive gauges inside the dynamometer truck register the maximum pull of each truck at 10 m.p.h. Insets in photos above show actual gauge readings in each case. To convert these readings into pounds, simply multiply them by three.

The results are conclusive evidence that Dodge Power Giants give you a third more pulling power than either of the "other two" low-priced makes. And this is just one of a series of tests that prove Dodge is the best truck of the low-priced three.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Dave Beck wants to know if he can take it with him. It may seem strange at this point in history to learn that the big wheel actually is asking his corps of counsellors whether he can walk away with the Teamsters' treasury.

But that's exactly what he has been doing quietly — and what he will do when the Teamsters' lawyers gather on July 15 for a council of war in Colorado Springs.

Beck will ask them a 39-million-dollar question. He wants to know whether the Teamsters' Brotherhood can take its treasury with it if it bolts the AFL-CIO.

This goes beyond Mr. B.'s affinity for finances. It reveals that he has regained control of a considerable section of the union and plans to fight any disciplinary action by the AFL-CIO high command when it meets on Aug. 12 in Chicago.

If this battle results in the expulsion of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO, there will be no problem.

THE HUGE treasury then will go with the Teamsters. But what if the Brotherhood bolts? There is great doubt that it can take a walk and carry its millions along.

Here's what can happen if Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa should decide that they don't want to take anything from anybody in the AFL-CIO high command and then walk out of the labor federation:

Any Teamster vice president — say, Tom Kickey of the New York region — can go into federal court and say he has legal title to the Teamsters' Union and its money.

He can then ask for the Teamsters' treasury. His argument would be that the 39 millions came from dues paid through the years to the Teamsters' Brotherhood as chartered by the AFL and, in the past few years, by the AFL-CIO.

THE TEAMSTERS' constitution, under which Dave Beck was elected in 1952, says in its preamble:

"We have organized the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers and are chartered by the American Federation of Labor and adopt the following constitution . . ."

The initials "AFL" are on virtually all Teamsters' letterheads, dues books and other literature. True, these are not on the masthead of the Teamsters' magazine, but they are on the huge organizational's charter.

Therefore, there is considerable legal ground for believing that a group of vice presidents could bolt the bolters and refuse to yield the treasury or the 5 million-dollar marble palace in Washington. And there are informed lawyers who believe that Beck would have difficulty taking it with him.

Obviously so does Brother Beck. For when the Teamsters' best legal brains sit down at the Colorado conference the first order of business will be:

"The practical and legal aspects of the AFL-CIO constitution."

ACCORDING to the official announcement in legal verbiage which I am sure every truck driver will understand, there will be four phases of this discussion:

"The constitutional rights of affiliates; union discipline and suspension; individual discipline and suspension; recommendations concerning the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Code."

We deviate ones also put importance into another discussion by the lawyers. This one is called: "Proposed Changes and Amendments to the Teamsters Constitution."

This is not the only significant sign of the coming civil war. Typical of Teamsters' tactics in this counteroffensive is a move taken by a section of Ohio Teamsters' Unions, which are in Jim Hoffa's personal bailiwick. Recently they got up a resolution which says:

"(The local unions) . . . go on record as unalterably opposed to the AFL-CIO merger today, tomorrow and henceforth."

THIS WAS adopted by the Stark Tri-County Building Trades Council at Canton.

It will be introduced at the Ohio State Building and Construction Trade Council, Aug. 22, in Dayton and then at the Ohio State Federation convention on Aug. 26, also in Dayton.

Then it will be pushed at the national Teamsters' convention next September.

The Teamsters are part of the construction trades group in the AFL-CIO which have over 3 million members in all — certainly a powerful bloc.

They're too big to be expelled. They could take a walk — but the point is can they take their treasuries with them?

But whatever happens, the war is on.

58 Attend McPherson Reunion In Columbiana

NORTH GEORGETOWN — Descendants of Charles McPherson held their annual reunion at Firestone Park on July 4. Fifty-eight attended.

Picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon. A short business session, in charge of the president, Hugh McPherson, followed.

The secretary, Mrs. Albert Vollnagle, read letters from Nettie McPherson, who is spending the summer at Geneva-on-the-Lake; from Dr. Clark McPherson from Italy and a report from Rev. Ralph Boyer, who is attending college at Boston.

Mrs. Homer McPherson led the group singing.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Floyd Hull, president; Clyde Todd, vice president; Mrs. Ray Hull, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Guy Frantz, historian.

The 1956 reunion will be held at the same place and on the same date.

The land occupied by the church and churchyard of Trinity Church in New York's Wall Street district is valued at 25 million dollars.

Crisis-Proof

The shakeup in the presidium of the Communist party's central committee in the Soviet Union occurred the last full week in June. By the time it was known to the outside world, late on July 3, the new balance of power favoring Khrushchev already had been wrapped up and delivered.

When Khrushchev's historic speech denouncing Stalin's one-man rule was made known to the outside world in mid-March, 1956, the event was five weeks old. The hierarchy of the Soviet Union has made itself crisis-proof. There is no other country in the world that can have an internal revolution in secret.

This raises the question of reliability in the reports of what happened. Even news "leaks" like the one that produced the edited text of Khrushchev's speech denouncing Stalin may be controlled by the Kremlin.

Certainly, no trust can be put in crowd-eating statements supposedly made by ousted members of the presidium, because the statements have been released by the winning side. They have been fashioned to achieve a calculated effect, like everything else that comes from the Kremlin.

During the week in June that the Kremlin was the scene of a revolution in miniature, the Soviet Union was hearing the U.N. report on Hungary and blasting it as a pack of lies. The official Communist newspaper, Pravda, was reporting a debate among Chinese Communists over the correct party line. The Soviet Union was trying to patch up its prestige in Poland. There was no overt sign of trouble at the heart of the Communist conspiracy.

The question is whether the trouble could have been contrived and announced at just the right moment to create a desired impression.

Perhaps the Communist conspiracy has learned to do what the leopard never mastered—change its spots to suit its whims.

Thought And After Thought

When all the educated guessers have had their say about Nikita Khrushchev's success in rebalancing the presidium, their guesses must be discounted for the wishful thinking they reflect.

Whether the wishful thinkers are in satellite states abroad, or in the United States, they are motivated by desire for some more agreeable conditions in the Kremlin, relative to their own purposes.

In this country, they would like to think that a reorganized presidium will be more strongly inclined toward international harmony than the former group in which Nikita Khrushchev squeaked through with a scant one-vote majority, when he could command a majority at all.

They would like to think this strongly that they ignore what has become the fixed characteristic of the Communist dictatorship—that it never deviates from its central aim, which is to keep alive and dynamic the socialist bid for victory in the battle for men's minds.

It cannot matter greatly one way or another in the long run who happens to be at the top of the heap in the Kremlin, as long as they belong to the Communist party. Their doctrine does not change. The only change is in their method of applying it to everyday problems.

Now that as much significance is being read into shifts in the membership of the presidium as once was read into Stalin's grunts and belches, it would be wise to remember that their net effect was nothing. The United States is wasting its time when it hopes for any real change of heart or direction in a doctrinaire dictatorship.

How To Live Dangerously

In the safety experts' rundown on the most hazardous holiday of the year—Independence Day—a startling fact stands out.

Millions of auto drivers and their riders buzzed through this year's long holiday weekend about as safely as they would buzz through any period of the same length.

The fact more people were on the highways, driving longer distances than usual, did not cause a sharp rise in fatality statistics. Once more, the National Safety Council's predicted fatality toll was too high.

What did show up in fatality statistics—dramatically—was the extreme hazard of swimming. More than half as many persons perished in the water as perished on the highways. Yet, only a tiny fraction of as many persons were exposed to the risk of drowning.

The proverbial fish out of water is playing it safe compared to the human being who gets into water. In many cases, no doubt, the people who drowned had been alerted in advance to the danger of automobile travel and from the scene of the tragedy. But they had not been alerted sufficiently to the danger of going under and never coming up alive.

Big Political Fallacy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Little Advantage For GOP In Civil Rights Fight

David Lawrence taken shows that the Negro vote in the United States follows the pattern of economic influence as it usually affects other groups of comparable income.

Despite the attitude of the southern Democrats, a heavy majority of the Negroes in the North cling to the Democratic party.

Even in the face of the Republican effort to take credit for Chief Justice Warren's leadership in formulating the desegregation decision handed down in 1954 by the Supreme Court, the Negro voters in the 1956 presidential election gave the bulk of their support to the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket.

Notwithstanding also all the fanfare of Republican speakers who pointed to President Eisenhower's prompt measures in putting "integration" into effect in the schools of the District of Columbia and other acts and speeches on his part between 1952 and 1956 avowedly opposing segregation, the Negro voters gave the Eisenhower ticket in last year's election only 36 per cent of their vote, according to a postelection study and poll made by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan and published last March.

IT BACKS UP the Gallup news release of Jan. 16 last, which showed the Republicans as having obtained 39 per cent among Negro voters in 1956.

While both these studies recorded a marked gain over 1952 for the Republicans, it is significant that, according to the University of Michigan study, the Republicans in 1948 had 35 per cent of the Negro vote, while in 1956 they got 36 per cent—only one more percentage point than eight years before.

In fact, the research staff of the Republican National Committee in its summary report of the 1956 election issued in May of this year says:

"In spite of considerable improvement in the Republican vote among Negroes, indications are that more than three-fifths of the Negro voting population continued to vote Democrat in 1956."

Why isn't all the "civil rights" agitation by the Republicans more successful in winning Negro votes? The answer is to be found in looking at the same Michigan study with respect to low-income groups as a whole. It shows that those voters earning below $2,000 a year—both white and Negro went from 39 per cent Republican in 1948 to 58 per cent in 1952 and then to 60 per cent in 1956.

BUT IN THE WARDS in and around Chicago which are composed predominantly of Negro voters with low incomes, the election statistics show the Republican percentage of the vote to be 23 per cent in 1952 and about 32 per cent in 1956. This was a substantial gain but still the Democrats got 68 per cent in 1956.

Looking, however, at the wards with Negroes of higher incomes, the Republican percentage was 40.1 per cent in 1952 and 43.7 per cent in 1956—a more normal division for a labor group.

The Gallup Poll shows union labor throughout the country as 39 per cent Republican in 1952 and 43 per cent Republican in 1956.

The reason the percentages for the Republicans among the lower income Negro voters are below the lower-income group in the nation as a whole is because a higher proportion of individuals with lower incomes is to be found among Negroes than among whites.

There is still a feeling, moreover, among Negro voters that the New Deal was an economic emancipation for them.

The WPA, for instance, and the vast relief appropriations happened to do more for the Negroes than for any other single group.

BACK IN 1936 this correspondent interviewed in Pittsburgh the late Robert L. Vann, editor of the largest of the Negro newspapers of the country and director of Negro political activities in Pennsylvania for the Democratic party. He told me why he had switched to FDR and I asked him if the Negroes were aiming at "social equality." His reply was "My goodness, no. We have our own pride of race."

"Then is it economic equality?" I asked.

"That's it, that's it," he replied. "Equal pay for equal work, and equal opportunity in jobs is what we really want."

The political party that improves the economic status of the Negro worker will gain far more than the party that doesn't.

The "civil rights" issue is important to the Negro voter but it will not swing an election for the Republicans in times when there is a recession or depression.

That's why, even with the handicap of the southern opposition to "civil rights," the Negro voters in the North are still betting on the Democratic party as their economic savior.

Play It Safe

By TRUMAN TULL

A California representative in Congress has proposed a change in the name of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

In the light of the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling that congressional investigators must stick to the subject they are investigating and not wander off the subject, he thinks this important group should be called the Committee on Subversive Activities. The term "un-American," he points out, cannot be clearly defined. "Subversive activity" can be clearly defined.

With due credit to the important information the Un-American Activities Committee has brought to light during its years of service under various chairmen and sometimes under heavy opposition from those who feared the light, a change in its name would put it on a stronger footing.

Almost anyone can come up on short notice with a clear definition of a "subversive activity"—clear not only for legal purposes but for practical purposes.

"To subvert" means to throw something off its foundations. But to be engaged in an "un-American activity" covers such a wide range of opinions about what constitutes bona fide "American activity" that congressmen might be tempted some day to get into "subversive activity" themselves by violating the Bill of Rights with their investigative power.

It is not un-American, for example, to ask pointed and embarrassing questions. Nor is it un-American to maintain a show-me attitude about practices which some Americans may hold to be indispensable.

Yet, no one who has his eyes and ears open can doubt there are many of his fellow Americans who cheerfully would cut the throat of anyone who asks a question with a built-in squirm.

This tendency must be curbed in a society of free inquiry, not merely with reference to questions embarrassing at any given moment but with a view to the long-range preservation of the Bill of Rights.

It is not un-American to ask the reason why, or to propose an improvement.

It is not un-American to refuse to gallop with the mob when the mob is chasing butterflies or hell-bent on a lynching.

It is not un-American to pull a blooper once in a while and to profit by one's mistakes.

It is not un-American to detest pumpkin pie, find baseball a dull game, or find no connection between a million bucks and profound wisdom.

It clearly is not un-American to want to put in a few good looks for the underdog, whatever the breed, or to demand that lights be turned on in places which someone is trying to keep dark.

What is un-American beyond the shadow of a doubt is to plot and connive to overthrow the government by stealth and undercover subversion—to conspire in plots to rob the sovereign people of their guaranteed right to control their own political affairs according to their own published rules.

To play it safe, the House Un-American Activities Committee should be limited by its name to the one thing everybody wants to keep under continuous investigation—subversion. The California representative is thinking in the right direction.

More Than The Right To Vote

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civil rights bill is loaded—in the sense that it goes far beyond just protecting the voting rights of Negroes—but it hardly comes under the head of "cunning."

Sen. Russell, Georgia Democrat and captain of the Senate Southerners now trying to prevent Senate consideration of the bill, called it the "most cunningly devised and contrived piece of legislation I have ever seen."

This, knowingly or not, was a slap at the Justice Department. Atty. Gen. Brownell, at the Senate Judiciary Committee's open hearings last February, said the bill was put together by his Justice Department's lawyers.

Brownell frankly said this bill—backed by the Eisenhower administration—would go beyond protection of voting rights. For example, he said, he could step in under it to back up the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation.

He didn't go into the many kinds of civil rights violations covered by this bill. He wasn't asked. Here are some other possibilities: segregation on buses, interference with witnesses or jurors where civil rights are concerned. There are plenty.

This is how he'd act: He'd ask a federal judge to order a stop to the violations. Disobedience would bring trial for contempt by the judge himself—not a jury trial—and jail if convicted.

In his indignation against this bill, Russell suggested that it be submitted to national vote. Only a handful of people most affected by it—Southern Negroes—are eligible to vote.

What particularly irritated Russell was that the bill doesn't everywhere spell out precisely what it would do but amends other laws which are merely referred to in the bill by number.

This is not, however, unusual in legislation. In such cases it is assumed that the senators, before they vote, will take the trouble to look up the amended laws to find out what they're voting on.

The bill falls into four sections but only the last two are under fire so far. No. 1 would create a six-man commission to study civil rights problems; No. 2 would create a new civil rights division in the Justice Department.

The fight has been over Nos. 3 and 4.

No. 3 would amend an old 19th century law—covering a very broad field of civil rights violations—under which a person whose rights were violated could sue for damages or ask a judge for an injunction to stop the violation.

Under the amending bill the attorney general could step in, instead of leaving it up to the injured individual to act, and ask the court for an injunction.

No. 4 would authorize the attorney general to step in if—specifically—some individual's voting rights were violated.

Under Nos. 3 and 4 he'd ask for a court injunction. Anyone disobeying the court order could be tried for contempt by the judge himself—without jury trial—and be sent to jail.

The theory is that this is the fastest way to get action against civil rights violations: to prevent their happening or stop them while they are happening. By the same reasoning a jury trial is slow and would come after a violation.

There is nothing new in trial for contempt of court by a judge himself, without a jury. Brownell cited at least 28 laws under which that can be done in other fields.

Southerners insist there should be a jury trial. But, although during the weeks of the filibuster they will offer amendment upon amendment to soften this bill, their main purpose all the while, Russell has said, will be to kill the bill.

Russell argues on another point too: not mentioned in the bill is an old law giving the President authority to call out troops to back up a court order against violations covered by that old 19th century law which this bill would amend.

If this bill is passed, amending the 19th century law, the old law providing for the calling out of troops would apply to the newly amended law. But Brownell replied sharply at the hearings when the subject of calling out troops was mentioned. He said the very suggestion that the President might call out troops in civil rights cases was disrespectful to President Eisenhower.

Southerners say they are not worried Eisenhower would call out the troops. They argue someone coming after—armed with the power this bill provides—might do so.

Toastmaster General

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Gov. John W. Brown is bucking for the title of toastmaster general.

He has turned to speech making as a full time occupation, he says, because he can meet people and win friends throughout the nation.

"I want to meet every living person in the United States," the personable 44-year-old Brown explains. "If you set your goal high enough, you may never reach it but you will have a lot of fun trying to get there."

Brown uses that as an illustration in his talks to show that if you want to do a thing, it is not impossible.

Demand for Brown as a speaker while serving two terms as lieutenant governor led him to the speaking platform full time. Bookings to address conventions and graduations, management and industrial groups, insurance and sales organizations already have taken him into a dozen states and Canada.

He will add Florida to the list next October when he addresses an Eastern Airlines meeting in Miami, and California early next year with an appearance at retail hardware convention in San Francisco.

An aviation enthusiast, Brown flies to most of his engagements. He is a licensed pilot but no longer flies his own plane. He holds honorary titles of admiral of Eastern Airlines, ambassador for Trans World Airlines and captain with Capital Airlines.

Whenever he can, Brown returns that night to his home in Medina after appearances. He served two terms as mayor of that Ohio city and operated appliance and real estate businesses there. Before that he was a state highway patrolman and served in the Coast Guard during World War II.

Brown's sideline is writing. He has two books in the mill. One is a volume on management and sales titled, "You can do it"; the other is a history of Ohio's gun-makers. He collects muzzle loading rifles and Colt sidearms as a hobby.

Brown mixes humor and philosophy for his listeners. He says his speeches "contain enough meat to set them thinking."

An illustrated brochure, describes Brown as "Ohio's most colorful speaker." The cover bears this slogan: "A smile or a tear, a laugh or a frown, the man from Ohio, John W. Brown."

Pictured inside is Brown shaking hands with President Eisenhower, chatting with Miss America, Annie Oakley and Gene Autry and posing with the late Harry Lauder, whom he met during the war.

Listed speaking topics include: "Today or Not Today," "Hit Your Wagon to a Star," "Hitler, Thither and Yawn," "Acres, Takers and Billy Achers," "Enjoy Yourself So Others May." Brown's travels have taken him to Michigan where the Ford Motor Co. had him speak on "Sales, Sweat and Service," Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

He received honorable mention for a POPA award made annually by the National Platform Assn. for "Performance on Platform."

Brown makes his speeches on a fee basis. He admits his income as toastmaster general isn't all it could be but insists it is enough for him and his wife, Violet, for accustomed living.

He indicates his income exceeds the $6,000 a year he received as lieutenant governor but is less than the pay of governor.

Brown was paid at the rate of $25,000 a year for the 11 day he served as governor last January between the resignation of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche to become U. S. senator and the inauguration of Gov. C. William O'Neill, who defeated Brown for the Republican nomination.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

All Aboard For The IGY

This is the International Geophysical (or What-Goes-On-Up-There?) Year. It begins with the July American Geovocation Season. This means that for a few months penetrating the secrets of the universe will be eclipsed by the effort to penetrate the secrets of clam chowder, the roadside cheeseburger and the shore resort inflation.

BUT IT IS QUITE a proposition. Man, completely befuddled by what is going on in his immediate vicinity, will try to understand what goes on around the moon, sun and stars. Life is so complex he finishes each day on earth in a haze, but he now tackles the secrets of the universe with a hey nonny nonny and a hot frankfurter and roll.

WE ARE JOINING in the spirit of the Geophysical Year as we are as anxious as the next man to determine once and for all how high is up and if so can it be explained so anybody will listen? We will support the scientists, trusting for answers to these mysteries:

1. Are there sunspots which explain juvenile delinquency, the man's craving to rent a beach cabana, Billy Martin's transfer to Kansas City and the tendency of the barn-swallow, to build a nest over the brand new hardtop?

2. Does radiation from the moon cause the increasing deadliness of the dry martini, and is it responsible for the "smog" over Supreme Court decisions?

3. Is a "fallout" from the Milky Way responsible for the drying up of man's former fear of debt, high taxes and crazy living?

4. Are weather conditions 300 miles up in the air responsible for Hollywood divorces, the odd behavior of Senator Wayne Morse and the belief of so many movie and TV personalities that the female bust is a 1957 discovery?

5. Will an earth satellite, traveling through the super-stratosphere and exchanging small talk with the moon, explain the wild conduct of human beings at the wheel of automobiles and afford a reasonable explanation for the speeches of Andru Gromyko, the commercials for cigarettes, Saroyan plans and black ants in the picnic lunch?

6. Is there a relationship between high tides at the North Pole, wind currents in the Caribbean and the proposed switch of the Brooklyn Dodgers to California?

On with the IGY or International Geophysical Year. It may reveal the reasons for Tommy Manville's home-making activities, Yogi Berra's batting slump and the poor strawberry crop.

PREMIER NASSER of Egypt held an election in which he personally selected all candidates.... (Camel driven democracy?)... Jim Norris should worry about that court decision that his boxing interests constitute a violation of the anti-trust laws.... He will continue to eat regularly, since his father left an estate of $200,000,000.... He won't even have to skip rope or do shadow boxing to keep financially fit.... A woman golfer had been given the winner's check and had made a speech before she was disqualified for putting down a five instead of a six on one hole.... It was inadvertent and a sympathetic audience got up a purse for her.... This is a different reaction to anything ever experienced by us.... When we once made an unintentional mistake of one stroke in a tournament in which there were some 100 fellow participants, 75 voted for the electric chair and 24 for the gas chamber.... (Only one man held that we should be placed on probation, and he was slightly intoxicated.).... A long dry spell in our neck of the woods has ruined lawns and depressed some neighbors beyond our understanding.... We belong to the Anti-Grass Federation and can take grass or leave it alone.... Anything that cuts out lawn-mowing is a break with us.... We think green grass is over-pressaged and think a yellow lawn has a certain appeal.... Premier Tito of Yugoslavia looks dynamic on TV and seems a dictator right out of the Hollywood book so far as appearance goes.... His wife is such a knockout, however, that she steals the show at times.... It would be nice if baseball airwave announcers would mention the score as often as the cigarettes and beer.

County Scouts Break Camp Tomorrow For Jamboree At Valley Forge

The ground area around the old McKinley Homestead at Camp McKinley near Lisbon has been a bustling city of tents this week as 76 Columbiana County Boy Scouts and their six adult leaders undergo a pre-jamboree training session of patrol meetings, briefings, cook-outs and crafts.

Tomorrow the scouts break camp early and head for Valley Forge, Pa., to participate in the National Jamboree. A stop-off at Gettysburg is planned.

The Salem News photographer found the enthusiastic scouts thoroughly enjoying themselves at camp yesterday, eager for the trip tomorrow to historic Valley Forge.

New Government Formed In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi today dismissed the Cabinet he inherited 4½ months ago from Tanzan Ishibashi and formed an almost completely new government.

Kishi retained only Hirohide Ishida, the chief Cabinet secretary, and Mitsujiro Ishii, his own appointee as deputy prime minister. Ishida was moved up to labor minister.

The Cabinet shakeup had been expected for some time. Few changes in the Conservative government's policies were expected to result from the reshuffle, which was done to reconcile rival factions in the ruling Liberal-Democratic party rather for policy reasons.

All 17 ministers submitted their resignations at a special Cabinet meeting.

'Queen Of Furrow' Contest Arrangements Are Completed

The Columbiana County "Queen of the Furrow" contest will be a feature of the county field day to be held at the Willis R. Rupert & Sons farm at New Waterford Wednesday, Aug. 7.

Girls 16 to 22 years of age who live on a farm and whose parents derive a portion of their income from farming are eligible to compete. Application forms are available at the Soil Conservation District office in Lisbon.

The winner in the county contest will compete with other counties at the Canfield Fair Aug. 30, and the district winner will vie in the state contest.

The ultimate winner will reign over the world's conservation exposition and plowing contest to be held in Adam's County Sept. 17 through 20.

Judges will make a selection on the basis of natural attractiveness, personality, and ability to converse. Miss Polly Stahl, county home economic extension agent, was elected chairman of the county contest committee at a meeting held in Lisbon July 5.

The county field day program will be similar to that planned for last year which was postponed due to the wet season. Various demonstrations will feature the program throughout the day. Twenty-five specialists from the Ohio State University, the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Ohio Division of Wildlife, the U.S. Division of Wildlife Service, Ohio Division of Forestry, Ohio Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service and the Ohio Hybrid Corn Producers Association will conduct the demonstrations. Wagon tours of the farm will operate from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The implement dealers of the county, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Extension Service, and other organizations and agencies are cooperating in planning and conducting the event.

Ferguson-Yeagley Vows Are Exchanged At Calla Church

Niagara Falls is the honeymoon destination of Dwain George Yeagley and his bride, the former Patricia Lynne Ferguson, who pledged their marriage vows Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the Calla Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Rev. W. P. Hanks officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Vases of white carnations enhanced the altar which was banked with palms and ferns and lighted with tapers in candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Ferguson of RD 5, Salem and W. L. Ferguson of Salem. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yeagley of RD 3, Canfield.

Mrs. Clarence Olin of RD 3, Canfield sang "O Promise Me," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. W. P. Hanks was organist.

The bride's ballerina length gown of lace and tulle over satin was styled with a bouffant skirt. She wore mits and a tulle hat with circular face veil and carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Carol Ann Puttkamer of RD 5, Salem, her only attendant, was dressed in a ballerina length gown of aqua chiffon over tulle. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

James Smith of RD 5, Salem was best man. William Ferguson of RD 3, Canfield, brother of the bride, and Jerry Yeagley of RD 3, Canfield, brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

The bride's mother in a sheath of champagne lace with pink accessories and the bridegroom's of champagne lace with pink accessories both complemented their attire with pink carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Yeagley home. A three-tiered cake was cut by Mrs. Carl Vignon, aunt of the bride. Mrs. William Ferguson, Mrs. Richard Strabala, and Mrs. Gene Holliday also served.

Miss Elaine Moffett of Salem registered the 150 guests from Salem, Greenford, Columbiana, Canton and Cleveland.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Greenford High School. Her husband, a 1954 Greenford High School graduate, is employed by a plastering contractor.

For traveling, the bride chose a beige sheath with brown accessories. When they return from their wedding trip, the couple will reside in Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeagley entertained at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at their home.

Girls Are Girls and Boys Are Boys When It Comes To Hats

Youngsters Exhibit Favorite Headpieces

Boys and girls can be as vain as grownups about the clothes they wear, often giving particular attention to the varying styles of hats.

For young ladies the frilly and much-beribboned chapeau is preferred. The boys, however, lean toward the most ill-treated, mangled and faded hat they can find. Just so it's comfortable, it seems.

Program Is Held By Midway Grange

The "Traveling Light" was presented to Master William Readshaw by Master E. H. Myers of Unity Grange at a meeting of Midway Grange Saturday evening.

Mrs. Paul Mollenkopf, lecturer of Unity Grange, presented the following program in a patriotic theme: Opening song, "America"; trumpet solo, Tommy Mollenkopf; "Review of Events before '76," Mrs. E. H. Myers; vocal solo, Mrs. Jack Vargo; accordion solo, Ronnie Freer; reading, "Review of the Fleet," Rachael Klitz.

Piano solo, Sherry Mollenkopf; "Symbols of Freedom," John Ward; closing song, "God Bless America."

Visitors from Clarkson, Lisbon and Mt. Nebo Granges attended and refreshments were served.

Midway Grange will take the "Traveling Light" to Mile Branch Grange Friday evening. An interesting program is planned to include the new Midway quartet.

Gold Star Auxiliary Plans Family Night

Plans for a family night observance were discussed at the Gold Star Auxiliary meeting Monday evening in the Veterans of Foreign Wars post home.

Mrs. Curt Stoffer presided with 15 members present, including Mrs. Laurel Sveum of Goldsboro, N.C.

Final plans were made to move to the new post home on Arch St. this week. Family night will be held instead of the annual picnic.

Mrs. Lillian DeJane and Mrs. James Hammond reported on the recent state convention held in Toledo.

The special prize was presented to Mrs. DeJane.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for July 22.

Personals

Miss Marietta Yocus of Newburgh, N.Y., and Miss Carol Carr of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, spent the July 4 holidays visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Yocus east of Salem on the Canfield-Lisbon Road. Chaplain and Mrs. L. D. Kelly and son David, also of Stewart Air Force Base, visited with the Yocus family Monday.

Mrs. Yocus is recovering from a broken leg suffered recently.

Mrs. Kenneth Herbert and children, Mary Louise and Jim, are spending this week with Mrs. Herbert's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lester McCrea of Duck Creek Road while Mr. Herbert is attending the Trades and Industry Supervisors Workshop at Camp Muskingum at Leesville. Tuesday, Mrs. Herbert spent the day with her brother, Frank Baird and his family of the Goshen Road. Tonight, Mrs. Herbert and her children and the McCrea's will be guests at a birthday supper for her brother, William Henry Baird, at his home in Patmos.

4-H Club News

Senior Silver Thimble Club

The Senior Silver Thimble 4-H Club will meet July 22 at the home of Carol, Gloria and Mary Ann Windle of the Teegarden Road. Announcement of the meeting was made when the club met recently at the home of Mrs. Don Huston of Teegarden Road.

Each member is to suggest a place for a tour and Louetta Doyle was appointed to find out the cost of taking a bus trip the club has discussed.

Audrey Votaw conducted the business session. Lunch was served by Mrs. Huston.

At the June 27 meeting in the home of Mrs. Bill Henceroth, the club welcomed Miss Julie Shank as a guest.

Audrey Votaw was in charge of the business session, and it was decided to send cards of thanks to Vince Andrusis and to Mr. Gilbert for their assistance in club projects.

A get-well card was sent to Mrs. Donald Kelch of Columbus, a former 4-H member. Lunch was served by members of the Junior Silver 4-H Club.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Huston's home.

Nimble Thimble 4-H Club

The Nimble Thimble 4-H Club met recently at the home of Ann Stanley of E. 12th St. A discussion was held on the 4-H tour July 16 in Akron to visit the Good Year Tire and Rubber Co. and the Akron Beacon Journal. Several members plan to make the trip.

Lois Schaefer gave a demonstration on neck facings, Ruth McCormick presided at the business session and Susan Mathews led the devotions. Following the 4-H pledge and roll call, Lois Schaefer read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Just-Rite

The June meetings of the Just-Rite 4-H Club were held at the home of Kenny Votaw at Guilford Lake, and the Harold Burcaw home with Keith Rhodes as host.

RFD Daughters

A 4-H trip to Akron July 16 was discussed by RFD Daughters 4-H Club at a meeting Monday night in the home of Bernice, Susie and Eunice Gidley of the Damascus Road. Fair booth suggestions were also made.

Bernice Gidley, president, opened the meeting and led the group in the 4-H and flag pledges. Nancy Clay gave the Bible readings.

Jackets for new 4-H members were discussed, and a cookout and a nature walk were enjoyed by the members. For recreation, the girls held a sack and candy race.

The next meeting will be an all-day cookout July 23 at the home of Mrs. David Kile of Western Reserve Road.

Driver Fined $100

By Hanoverton Mayor

HANOVERTON — Robert Lee Savage, 47, of Portsmouth, Va., was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail Tuesday by Mayor Howard H. Hart for driving while intoxicated. Savage was arrested by Police Officer Roy Painter in Kensington after he had mistaken the front yard of Albert J. Loudon's home as a parking lot.

Mayor Hart also received a forfeited $10 bond from Frank A. Presly, 24, of Carrollton, who was charged with driving left of center.

In Mayor's Court

Three persons were fined a total of $90 Tuesday and Wednesday by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer. Fined were: Robert L. Lutsch, 21, of 905 Arch St., $20 for speeding; Mary H. Fockler, 20, of Louisville, $20, speeding; and Wayne Simms, 26, of 375 W. Pershing St., $50 and 30 days in jail for assault and battery. Mayor Cranmer suspended $40 of Simm's fine and the jail sentence.

Outlook to August

The weather maps below give the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from now until August. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an estimate of the average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Most of the nation can expect fair days ahead. Moderate rainfall is expected over the greatest portion. An area extending from the northeast to the Carolinas and inland to Tennessee may have light rain. The same goes for much of California. Heavy downpour may hit the northwest, Florida and lower Texas.

Above-normal temperatures from now until August will be experienced by the lower half and northeastern section of the nation. The northwestern portion will have below-normal readings. A band running from the upper Great Lakes to the West Coast will have near-normal temperatures. Only the lower portion of California is expected to be hit with really soaring temperatures.

far—is over a motion to bring the bill itself up for floor action.

Ready to Resume Assault

With Southern Democrats ready to resume their assault on the measure in lengthy speeches, there were clear indications Eisenhower administration officials will be willing to talk about changes in the bill when the Senate begins actual work on it.

Among others, Vice President Nixon was reported to feel the language sponsored by the administration and approved by the House may be too stringent. This view apparently was shared by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader.

Nowland said that after the measure is officially before the Senate he will be open to suggestions for possible changes.

This seemed to reflect the growth of opposition among some Republicans to ramming through a measure their Dixie colleagues have said would confer "sweeping powers" on the attorney general to intervene in almost any civil rights controversy.

Undecided on Limiting Debate

Sen. Young (R-ND) announced at a Senate Republican Policy Committee meeting Tuesday he would not vote to limit debate on the bill. Sen. Williams (R-DE) told newsmen he is undecided. On the Democratic side, Sen. Bible of Nevada said he is inclined now to vote against limiting debate.

Unless Southern opponents talk themselves into exhaustion in the meantime, the measure can't be brought to a final vote unless 64 senators support debate limitation.

Sen. Douglas (D-IL), chairman of a committee of Northern Democratic supporters of the bill, said in an interview it was "premature to talk about amendments."

Sen. Russell (D-GA), who has charged that the bill would authorize "bayonet rule" to enforce school integration and desegregation in public places in the South, challenged a ruling by Nixon Tuesday that the Senate is discussing the correct version of the House-passed measure.

Russell first made a point of order and announced he would seek a roll call vote against Nixon's ruling. But on second thought, he said he would not press the matter. He said he knew the "nowland-Douglas axis" had the votes to "rewrite" the Senate rules he said were being circumvented by the ruling.

Russell's reluctance to bring this matter to a vote indicated that the Southerners may cease their talks against the bill within a few days long enough to permit the Senate to vote to consider the bill itself. That would avoid a debate limitation battle they fear they might lose.

Once the bill is up, however, a Dixie strategist said the talk will continue until there is a showdown on whether the measure's sponsors can get 64 votes to end debate.

Russia

of vital importance in the crisis. Personal ambitions on the part of some of the ousted men, particularly Malenkov and Shepilov, who are both relatively young men, may have provided the real motivations on their side.

Informants said that what the Khrushchev group now does with the men may indicate how he will develop his power, assuming he is the strong man. Harsh action would probably bring the conclusion that Khrushchev is building himself into a dictator by wiping out opposition.

But if these men are simply consigned to political oblivion, the tendency will be to think that the present Soviet leadership wants to continue to prove that it has really abandoned the ruthless way of Stalin, that it wants collective leadership to work, and that while it cannot tolerate conspiracy in high places it has some tolerance for the conspirators as individuals.

One of the interesting aspects of the shakeup is that the new men added to the enlarged Presidium generally represent regional interests. They have not heretofore been identified with the national administration of the Soviet Union.

This may be linked with Khrushchev's efforts to decentralize operations of industry in the Soviet Union, but it also may represent a power play on his part to bring into top party positions men who owe him their success.

Everyone seems to agree that Zhukov's support was vital to Khrushchev's survival, but beyond that the marshal's role is highly uncertain.

Four Lisbon K Of C's To Attend Conference

LISBON — Four officers of the Lisbon Knights of Columbus will attend the state conference at Columbus Saturday and Sunday, July 13, 14.

Attending will be William Kelly, state youth chairman; Dr. Louis A. Cosentino, financial secretary; Felix Rutecki Jr., past grand knight and present general program chairman; and Jack Steitz, grand knight.

A number of local knights and their families will attend the annual state family outing which will be held at Cedar Point on Lake Erie, July 26-28.

U. S. Opens Case In Clinton Trial

16 Segregationists Involved In Suit

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Federal attorneys set out today to unveil the evidence in the charges against 16 segregationists accused of forcibly interfering with enrollment of Negroes in a small-town Tennessee high school.

"This lawsuit is shaping history," a defense lawyer solemnly asserted in U.S. District Court.

The trial, involving integration at Clinton, Tenn., High School, has been heralded as a major test of the U.S. government's power to enforce the Supreme Court order to end segregation in the public schools.

The jury, 10 men and two women, was completed late Tuesday, all the jurors are white.

On trial are 15 Tennesseans, including a pregnant, teen-age housewife.

The 16th defendant is John Kasper, lanky, owl-eyed native of New Jersey. He is accused of coming to Clinton and stirring up the riots that took place when Negro students entered the high school.

Kasper, like the other 15, is being tried for criminal contempt. All are accused of violating a federal court injunction against interfering with racial integration at the school.

But neither he nor the battery of lawyers defending the Tennesseans concealed their distaste for the joint trial. Kasper is represented solely by J. Benjamin Simmons, Washington, D. C., attorney.

Kasper told a reporter: "They (the other defense lawyers) came into this when they heard money was being raised. Politics and publicity were behind it too."

Robert L. Dobbs of Memphis, spokesman for the defense lawyers, said there is no coordination of any kind with Simmons.

"I don't know what he plans to do, or if he will call any witnesses or anything else," Dobbs said.

"I don't suppose Simmons is any prouder of being with us than we are of being with him."

Lawyers for "The 15" — as they describe themselves in court — claim there is so much "mass prejudice" against Kasper that the joint trial works to the disadvantages of their clients.

Four Negroes were among the 31 people examined for this jury.

The government accepted two. The defense challenged them all. In all, defense lawyers used peremptory challenges to dismiss eight candidates. Government attorneys challenged three. The other eight were excused "for cause" — that is, when they said they had firm convictions on segregation in the schools, "mixing the races," or some of the other highly charged aspects of the case.

Questioning by the opposing lawyers foreshadowed a major area of battle in the trial.

U.S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford pounded at the candidates on one theme—respect for law, even when they disagreed with a legal order.

"Do you believe a citizen has a right to decide for himself which law he will obey and which ones he will not obey?"

In swift reply, when his turn came, Dobbs asked whether the candidate knew the rights guaranteed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. "Do you believe every person has a right to express his opinion about a law? Do you believe in freedom of speech, of the right to assemble? Would you grant those freedoms to these 15 defendants?"

WCTU To Meet Friday In Christian Church

ROGERS — The Rogers Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet Friday at 2 p.m. at the Christian Church.

Mrs. Jessie Knight will be hostess and Mrs. Emma Harter will be program leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rudabaugh returned home Saturday from a week at North Bay, Can.

Mrs. Frank Lewis spent a week with her husband, Cpl. Frank Lewis at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jenkins Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barkley and daughters of New Waterford.

County Board Unable To Give 3rd Salk Shots

LISBON — Dr. C. S. Palmer, Columbiana County health commissioner, has sent letters to boards of education in the county health district advising them that his department is unable to secure more Salk vaccine to administer the third series of inoculations this fall and winter.

To provide maximum protection, Dr. Palmer said, children should have their third shots about seven months after the second inoculations. He suggested that school boards purchase enough vaccine for the completion of the series.

He said the health department would administer the inoculations if the serum were supplied.

Ohio Plans Revealed For 'Operation Alert'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's seat of government moves to Delaware Friday as part of the nation's fifth annual Civil Defense exercise.

Gov. C. William O'Neill and other state officials will move to Ohio Wesleyan University, Ohio's plans for participation in "Operation Alert 1957" were announced Tuesday by Adj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber after a Cabinet meeting in the governor's office.

Plans call for five of the state's nine critical target cities to be "atom-bombed." Kreber said cities to be attacked will not be informed until the exact time of the simulated bombing.

Target cities will receive air raid warnings about 11 a.m. (EST) Friday. They will theoretically disperse residents to receptionaries.

Critical target cities include Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo, Akron, Canton, Youngstown, Steubenville, Cincinnati and Dayton.

Down On The Farm

Ohio Institutions Being Enlarged

Buildings To Ease Crowded Conditions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Annex replacement at Cincinnati's Longview State Hospital heads the list of projects that the Department of Mental Health and Correction will place under contract shortly.

Public Works Director Zoyd M. Flalar listed the $3,213,960 project among those totaling $7,057,470 for which bids have been received.

Gov. C. William O'Neill said another $7,448,940 worth of construction is under way and that bids will be received during the last half of 1957 for additional projects consisting $18,361,000.

The governor described the program as the state's largest and said:

"It will make hundreds of new beds available for the mentally ill and give some relief to overcrowded institutions."

He said plans call for additional contracts to boost the total to about 47 million dollars "within a year."

Other major projects to be placed under contract shortly include:

100-bed addition to the receiving hospital and therapy unit at Toledo State Hospital.

120-bed reception and intensive therapy unit, Tiffin State Hospital.

100-bed medical and surgical building, Gallipolis State Institute.

Centralized food preparation and service unit, Columbus State School.

Minoso, Bunning, Kaline, Heroes Of AL's 6-5 Win Over NL

Second Triumph In Eight Years

Each Side Scores 3 Runs In 9th Inning

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chicago's Minnie Minoso and Detroit's Jim Bunning and Al Kaline were singled out today as the 1957 All-Star Game heroes, but some critics attributed the American League's 6-5 victory Tuesday to good breaks, poor National League base running and Casey Stengel's luck.

Each side scored three times in the ninth inning. A fine throw and catch by Minoso preserved the American's second triumph in the last eight years and Stengel's second success in seven All-Star games. Minoso's double in the top of the ninth drove in Kaline with the winning run.

The crowd of 30,693 witnessed splendid pitching by young Bunning, Baltimore's Billy Loes and Milwaukee's Lew Burdette, and fine fielding and timely hitting by Kaline and Minoso. They also saw several plays that will be second-guessed for many weeks.

Why did National League Manager Walter Alton decide to let Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews swing away in the ninth inning? The potential tying runs were on second and first, and with nobody out, strategy cried for a bunt.

Why didn't Cincinnati's Gus Bell stop at second on Chicago Cub Ernie Banks' one-out run-scoring single in the ninth which cut the American's lead to 6-5? Bell tried to advance to third and was an easy out on Minoso's throw to Boston's Frank Malzone.

Why didn't Cincinnati's Frank Robinson, who had opened the National's fifth with a single, run to second on Mathews' apparent line drive hit to right field? Instead, Robinson retreated after going halfway and was thrown out at second by Kaline, who made a one-handed stab of the ball on the first bounce.

Alton, who used all but four of his 25 players, defended his own action and that of his players in a forthright manner.

"I thought about having Mathews bunt," he said. "But Eddie has good power and is a left-handed pull hitter. With that short right field porch an inviting target I wanted to give him a chance to hit that long one for us."

Left-hander Don Mossi of Cleveland, summoned out of the bullpen to relieve Chicago southpaw Billy Pierce, got Mathews on a called third strike. Banks followed with a single which would have tied the score had Eddie advanced the two runners.

"Had I known Eddie would strike out and Banks would hit that single," the skipper of the Brooklyn Dodgers said with a smile, "I would have had Mathews bunt."

"As for Bell, I think he did the right thing. In fact, I was glad to see him trying for third. He wanted that tying run on third with only one out. Gus is a good base runner. He thought he had a chance and he gambled. You can't sit and wait in this game. It took a perfect throw to get him and Minoso made it."

"About Robinson, I can't see how anyone can criticize him. Maybe the fans up in the stands had a better view but we on the field couldn't tell whether Kaline caught Mathews' liner or not."

Robinson said he thought Kaline had a good chance to catch the ball and he was afraid of being doubled up.

Bell told newsmen in the dressing room that he thought he was safe at third.

"I thought I had a good chance to make it when Malzone slowed up Banks' hit," he said. "I would never have run had he not touched the ball. Minoso played it perfectly and got off a quick throw. I thought I made it but maybe I didn't."

Ironically, the best pitcher of the day was Bunning, whom Casey nominated to start only because Cleveland's Early Wynn, his original choice, had been used Sunday.

Bunning hurled three perfect innings, retiring nine batters in succession as Stengel's crew built up a 2-0 lead against Philadelphia's Curt Simmons.

Loes also kept the National League sluggers from scoring during the next three innings while the American Leaguers increased their lead to 3-0 in the sixth—after Burdette had stopped them in the third, fourth and fifth.

It was while Wynn was on the mound that the National Leaguers first scored. Singles by New York's Willie Mays and Cincinnati's Ed Bailey and a pinch hit double by Bell reduced the AL's lead to 3-2 in the seventh.

Pierce halted the rally but he was shelled from the mound in the ninth after the American League had opened up a 6-2 margin with three ninth-inning runs—only one earned—against Clem Labine of Brooklyn. Kaline drove in two and scored the other.

A walk to Stan Musial, May's triple and a wild pitch produced two NL runs with nobody out. When pinch hitter Hank Foiles of Pittsburgh singled and Bell walked, Mossi took over and struck out Mathews.

Banks' run-scoring single, on which Bell was nipped at third for the second out, caused Stengel to call upon his own ace reliever, right-hander Bob Grim, to pitch to pinch hitter Gil Hodges with Banks, representing the tying run, on second. The Dodger first baseman drilled Grim's second pitch on a line to left field but Minoso grabbed it on the run to end the game.

And so the American League won its 14th game to 10 for the National League in All-Star competition.

On Your Mark...

Facts and Fancies About Sports

By MARK MILLER

Bill Herman of Salem pitched a perfect 3-0 no-hitter recently in the Alliance Softball League at Early Field.

Pitching for Old Dutch of Alliance, he humbled Amvets Post No. 4 of Alliance which is in contention for the league lead. It is believed to be the first perfect game pitched in this area in the past 10 years, and perhaps even longer.

His no-hit feat was sandwiched in between five games which he pitched in seven days. During this span Bill won four and lost one. He almost lost his no-hitter, when, with two out in the seventh inning, Charley Blue blasted a tremendous drive to deep left field. However, Charley Klan made the catch on the dead run with his back to the infield.

PURITY DAIRY, currently the only unbeaten girls softball team in league play, will battle the powerful Hubbard girls team at Kelley Park Wednesday night at 8:45. The Hubbard team defeated Purity earlier in the season 6-0, allowing the losers only two hits.

Pitching for Purity will be Janet Reeder, who has given up only one run in 15 innings thus far this season. Included in her 4-0 record is a perfect no-hit game, an 8-0 victory over Sekely's earlier in the season.

Hubbard was runner-up in the state finals last season.

JIM RUTECKI, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutecki of RD 5, Lisbon, has concluded a successful career as a pitcher on the Ohio State University baseball team. During the past season, Jim won three games and lost none. He pitched some 50 innings, reaching his peak with a one-hit performance against Michigan State.

THE SALEM GOLF CLUB July 4th Flag Day winners were: First flight, Richard Green, who shot a 66 for a low gross of 72; second, Walter Deming, who shot a 65 for a low gross of 76; and Gordon Scott, who made a 66 for a low gross of 75.

In second flight, John Hubert was first with a net 63. Dr. James Moorehead had a 66, and Carl Ramsden had a 68.

In the Kelley Memorial results, for the Class B championship Vincent Judge defeated Orein Naragon in the finals, and Ken Meyer defeated George Aronson in the finals for the Class C title.

Canadian Golf Tourney Begins

Red-Hot Paul Harney Heads Favorites

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—A field of more than 160 golfers, headed by red-hot Paul Harney, tee-off today in the $25,000 Canadian Open at Westmount Golf and Country Club.

Harney has been installed as one of the favorites in this 48th Canadian Open on the strength of his tremendous play over the past few weeks.

The 27-year-old long hitter from Boston, Mass., has earned more than $10,000 in the past three weeks. After copping first prize of $5,700 in the Flint Open just three weeks ago for his first victory in three years of tournament play, Harney won $970 in the Western Open in Detroit and last week captured the Montreal Open, winning $3,500.

Four defending champions are in the field. George Fazio, of Philadelphia, Pa., Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., Pat Fletcher of Montreal, and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., are the former champions who will be seeking the $3,500 top prize over the 6,544 yard par 35-36-71 layout.

The long hitters — and that means Harney and Big George Bayer, who finished second to Harney in last week's Montreal tournament — will have little advantage at Westmount. It is a scenic rolling course whose fairways are lined with trees and for the most part, the small greens are set upon plateaus, and the course demands accurate work with the irons.

Harney, after one practice round predicted that no one will break 274 on this course.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

Some interesting announcements have been made by the Ohio Wildlife Council that have a direct bearing on Columbiana County and I have reference to the proposed Highlandtown Lake area. This area is not considered a critical "lake need area" so the land already obtained by the state will be utilized as a public hunting area.

Another reason given for abandoning this lake site is "lack of local interest." Another reason given is that one landowner did not wish to sell a necessary tract of land needed before actual construction would begin on the proposed lake.

SPLIT SQUIRREL SEASON will interest the hunters as Carroll and Jefferson counties are included in the southern zone when the season opens Sept. 2 and closes Oct. 31, both dates inclusive.

In Columbiana County, which is included in the northern zone, the season opens Sept. 16 and closes Oct. 31, both dates inclusive.

ON AUG. 15 the new law will go into effect that the owner of an automobile that kills a deer on the highway may take possession of the deer, providing that he reports the accident to the game protector within 24 hours.

No hunting license is required, but this does not include non-residents. At least a little venison in the deep freeze will eliminate some of the bad feelings that existed when all that a motorist got out of the collision was a damaged car. I like this law.

On Sept. 17th, any person receiving financial assistance from the Ohio Division of Aid for the Aged, will be issued a free fishing license. That does not mean that all persons reaching 65 years of age will be issued a free permit. A lot of people I know receiving state aid are practically invalids.

A FEW BASS AND WALLEYES are being taken at Guilford Lake. The lake is gradually returning to normal since the water was lowered last spring. There will be an abundance of duck food, particularly smart weeds, this fall that should attract flight ducks when the season opens.

Ducks go for this food and there is something about this diet that improves the flavor of wild ducks. All the mud flats not yet under water is covered with this natural duck food.

THERE WAS A TIME when I traveled from point to point on township and county roads just to get away from some of the fast driving on state roads and to get away from the slow-moving trucks on an uphill grind.

But not any more. These secondary roads are more dangerous. They were never constructed for the 60 miles an hour traffic. Township trustees and the county commissioners may be forced to establish speed limits, according to the general rules of safe driving. Bell School Road is particularly hazardous. If I get hit I hope I do not land in the garbage and rubbish dump on this road which has been a public nuisance and in direct violation of the state sanitary laws.

Contestants Go Into 2nd Round

Davis Leads In 51st Ohio Amateur Golf Tournament

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The 51st Ohio Amateur golf championship went into its second qualifying round today with 185 contestants trying to catch Robert Davis, 30-year-old Cincinnati electrical equipment manufacturer, who manufactured a sub-par 68 in Tuesday's opening 18-hole round.

Davis fired five birdies and one bogie for a 34-34—68 over Springfield Country Club's 6,545-yard, par-36-72 course to take a one-stroke lead for the medal honors.

With 66 of the 186 entrants firing scores of 78 or better for the opening 18-hole round, indications are that scores of 156 will be necessary to qualify for the 64 match-play spots.

A stroke behind Davis is Bud Anderson of Alliance, 37-year-old ex-caddy who reached the semi-finals in 1954. Anderson, who spent three years in the South Pacific during World War II as an infantry sergeant, is president of the Stark County Golf Assn.

Tied for third place with two-under-par 70s are Padel Savic, Columbus, former Ohio State quarterback, and 19-year-old Dave Samaritoni, ex-caddy from Sandusky.

Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland, 21-year-old finalist last year, is all alone at 71 and tied at par-72 are Harry Wilson of Cleveland, Andy Santor of Youngstown, Joe Myers of the host club and Eddie Bohardt of Dayton, who paced the 18-man public links contingent.

The highly touted stars are close behind. Deadlocked at 73 are Francis Card of Columbus, the 1952 amateur champion; Bob Rankin of Zanesville, the winner in 1955; and Bob Ross of Springfield, the home town pride who won the 1955 and 1956 state Junior title.

In contention are Ed Preisler of Cleveland, 1946 Amateur champion and Jack Zimmerman of Dayton, two-time State Public Links titleholder and Amateur finalist in 1955 with 74s.

With scores of 156 for the two 18-hole rounds expected to qualify, some of the hotshots are on the ragged edge. Among them are Jackie Nicklaus 17-year-old Columbus Open champion, with 76, Hamilton Judges, Columbus, winner of the recent state Pre-Seniors title, with 77, and Tom Jones of Youngstown, red-haired 1951 champion with 78.

Barney Hunt, former state Public Links champion from Columbus, had a 79; Larry Snyder of Athens, the 1957 Junior champion checked in with 82; and John Florio of Columbus, 1929 and 1932 state Amateur king, soared to an 88, which apparently put him out of the running.

The low 64 scorers after today's round go into match play Thursday in a pair of 18-hole round contests. The same program is on for Friday, Saturday's semi-finals and Sunday's championship match will be over the 36-hole route.

Dartmouth's oldest football rivalry is with Harvard. The series began in 1882.

Ohio Amateur Golf Tournament Scores

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — First round golf scores Tuesday in the 36-hole qualifier for the 51st Ohio Amateur golf championship over Springfield Country Club's 6,545-yard course (par 36-72) include:

Jerry Brown, Middletown, 82; Don Todd, Athens, 81; Robert Patterson, East Liverpool, 82; C. O. Porter, Lima, 88; Joe Miller Jr., Hamilton, 77; Edward Koski, Steubenville, 79; Raymond Brack, Newark, 86; Dr. Arthur Cloran, East Liverpool, 81; Bud Anderson, Alliance, 69; Al Gregor, Kent, 81; David Patton, Steubenville, 86.

Rod Rowan, Zanesville, 81; H. McMillan, Zanesville, 90; Gomer Wanamaker, Lima, 85; Larry Snyder, Athens, 82; Lloyd Raake, Zanesville, 86; Bob Hastings, Marion, 86; Glenn Sheridan, Zanesville, 90; Dr. W. B. Steele, Middletown, 82; Dr. Mark Roots, Canton, 75; Brad Armour, Lima, 82; Myron Sanderson, Middletown, 84; Robert Brown, Zanesville, 84.

OOPS, ALMOST A BOBBLE — Roy McMillan catches high pop by Mickey Mantle in third inning of All-Star game at St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday, despite bumping from left fielder, Frank Robinson, left. In background, Willie Mays, centerfielder, who also came in on play. McMillan is National League shortstop. The American League won the game 6 to 5.

Quotes, Incidents, Statistics From Tuesday's All-Star Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Spicing Tuesday's All-Star game were the following quotes, incidents and statistics:

Cincinnati with six players had the biggest squad on the National League team.

The six—Johnny Temple, Ed Bailey, Gus Bell, Roy McMillan, Frank Robinson and Don Hoak—batted 10 times, good for three hits.

Bailey and Robinson smacked singles and Bell blasted a pinch hit double to knock in the first two National runs.

St. Louis detectives arrested 16 men before the game and booked them on suspicion of scalping tickets.

Yogi Berra, the Yankees catcher, collected his first All-Star RBI in nine games when he singled in Moose Skowron in the sixth.

George Kell of Baltimore called Williams the "greatest hitter I saw" but added "that even Ted will admit that Stan Musial is a better all-around player."

St. Louis Manager Fred Hutchinson defended Walter Alston's strategy of going for the bundle and not sacrificing in the ninth inning.

"I'd have done the same thing," Hutch said.

"I gave them everything, fast balls, sliders, and I mixed them up too." That was winning pitcher Jim Bunning of Detroit speaking after three perfect innings.

Ken Smith, secretary of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America and a writer for the New York Mirror, was stunned when a foul pop hit him on the shoulder during batting practice.

Reporters and photographers, defying Commissioner Ford Frick's order, swarmed close to the batting cage before the game.

Ted Williams greeted one scribe stonily with:

"Are you guys supposed to be this close to the batting cage?" Frick, in issuing the order, was trying to prevent box seat patrons from missing out on seeing the batting practice.

Gil McDougald, Yankee shortstop, has appeared in three All-Star games and in each game he played a different position. In order, Gil has been a second baseman, a third baseman and shortstop.

Easy Victories Scored In Western Tournament

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Top-seeded Vic Seixas and Darlene Hard, just returned from the Wimbledon, England, tournament, scored easy victories Tuesday over their initial opponents in the Western Open Tennis Tournament.

Seixas, 33, seemed somewhat rusty when he started against Cuba's Manuel Garcia, but he warmed up and eliminated his opponent, 6-2, 6-3.

The 21-year-old Montebello, Calif., girl ousted Milwaukee's Katie Meyer, 6-0, 6-1.

Today Seixas and Sammy Giammalva, the thirdseeded entry from Houston, Tex., will pool their abilities in the start of the men's doubles.

Giammalva trounced Bob Pott-ham of Waukesha, Wis., 6-2, 7-3, Tuesday.

Birdie Tebbets, Manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, holds a bachelor of arts degree from Providence College. He also took a course in agriculture at the University of New Hampshire.

Athletic Commission To Meet

Fate Of Moore-Anthony Fight Seems To Rest With Sinatra

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The fate of a proposed Archie Moore-Tony Anthony fight for the world light heavyweight championship in Los Angeles apparently rested today on a bid by singer-actor Frank Sinatra to promote the bout.

The California Athletic Commission called a special meeting here, today to:

Approve or reject the 15-round match Sept. 11 at Gilmore Field, home of the Hollywood baseball club.

Approve or reject a request for a promoter's license in the name of Sinatra.

The principals agreed on terms Tuesday. Opposition to the fight quickly bubbled to the surface, with at least three established clubs or promoters slated to appear before the commission.

Ready to object, not so much to the fight as to the promoter's license, were matchmaker Jack Leonard and two members of the Hollywood Legion Stadium board of directors, Underwood and Claude Cummings; promoter Cal Eaton and his wife, Aileen, of the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles, and Bennie Ford, San Francisco promoter.

Jules Covey, attorney and a former chairman of the state boxing board, was here to represent Sinatra and his business manager, Henry (Hank) Sanicola. Sanicola is a devoted fight fan and with Sinatra owns a "piece" of lightweight Cisco Andrade.

"We don't particularly want the fight ourselves," Leonard said before leaving Hollywood. "We might take it if we had to."

"But we object to a rich guy like Sinatra coming in on a one-shot deal. We certainly couldn't afford to make Moore an offer of $100,000. It isn't worth that money."

"But a man like Sinatra can, and if he loses, he can just write it off in taxes. We are in this business for our bread and butter. He isn't."

The Sinatra camp had his backers, Gene Doyle, who manages Gilmore for its wealthy owner, Earl B. Gilmore, and who promoted fights for many years, said he has rented the park for Sept. 11.

Doyle added: "Why shouldn't Sinatra get a promoter's license if he meets all the requirements? The boxing law was not written to give anyone exclusive rights."

Sebring Golf Club Schedules Tourneys

The Sebring Golf Club has scheduled three tournaments during July and August.

A teenage handicap tournament will be held starting July 18, with the finals scheduled August 11. Stretch Horning will be the only Ladies entry.

A Ladies June Handicap Tournament started Monday, and the finals will be played also on August 11. Salem players in this tourney are Lillian Logue, Mary Eckstein, Jean Horning and Donna Ehrhart.

The Mixed Doubles Tournament will start July 14, with the finals to be played August 15. Salem players to participate are Judy Julian, Lillian Logue, Ward and Mary Eckstein, Pat and Dot Nocera, Dick and Donna Ehrhart, and Gale and Edra Stewart.

Lincoln Rolls Over Bliss 10-5

Hendron's, Drive-In, Stepanic's Win

Hendron's nipped Parker's in a thriller 6-5, Drive-In edged Collins' 11-9, Stepanic's whipped Hendron's 11-2, and Lincoln Machine tripped Bliss 10-5 in city softball competition Tuesday evening at Kelley Park.

Parker's held the lead from the open frame until the first half of the seventh inning. With the score 5-4, Duco walked and Barnes doubled, scoring Duco. After W. Hahn fluffed out to center field, Demps Balsley slashed a double into right center field, driving in Barnes with the winning tally.

Schoeni paced the victors with two hits in three trips to the plate, while Pridon got two for four for the losers. Carmelo and Baker hit home runs for Parker's, Carmelo, an inside the park job, and Baker, a smash against the scoreboard.

The Salem Drive-In racked up eight runs in the second stanza, and then had to add two more in the bottom of the sixth, after Collins had tied the score, to win the contest.

In this slugfest, Collins tied the game at nine apiece in the top half of the sixth inning. Two walks occurring with the bases loaded brought in the runs that evened the count.

But in the bottom of the sixth, Drive-In's Kappler walked and moved to third when R. Hiner was safe on an error. A ground ball scored one run and set up the other. Feicht then singled in the winning tally of the game.

Feicht had two doubles and a single in four official trips to the plate to pace the winners, and J. Moulin had three for five in leading the losers' attack.

Stepanic's received little trouble from Hendron's, overpowering their opponents with 14 hits, featured by the noise of Eddie Bozick's bat. Eddie had a perfect night at the plate, getting four hits, a single, a double, and two triples. McNeely also aided his team's cause with three hit in four trips.

For the losers Gottling and Halderman each had one for two. The game didn't become a rout until the seventh frame. At this point, with the score Stepanic's 5 and Hendron's 2, the winners produced six more marker.

Lincoln pounded out 12 hits, 10 of which were produced by Paul Ritchey, Bill Crookston and Chuck Alexander.

Ritchey had four hits in four trips to the plate, and Crookston and Alexander had three for four, including a home run apiece. In his only official trip to the plate, Kekel smashed out a home run for the losers.

What It Means To Different People - - 1

Inflation--More Money Around But Purchasing Power Dwindling

By SAM DAWSON

Editor's Note: Call it creeping inflation, or call it the high cost of living, or call it the shrinking purchasing power of the dollar — people say they don't like it. But some obviously do like one or another aspect of inflation. It depends on where you sit. In the following article, first in a series of three, Sam Dawson, Associated Press business analyst, tells what different people mean when they talk about inflation.

By SAM DAWSON NEW YORK (AP)—A young executive moved about by his company parlayed his original small house into increasingly larger ones — mounting house values let him sell at a profit and thus lay hands on bigger down payments. Inflation looks like a windfall for him—but his final mortgage is a lot higher, too.

A retired couple find they must scrimp to live — although their nestegg once promised ease, even luxury. A widow finds her late husband's life insurance doesn't buy what he had thought it would. A factory worker or an office worker finds his pay check pleasantly fatter than 10 years ago — and this is surprising and dismayed when his bills for the same goods and services climb out of sight.

All these are aspects of what a wage-price spiral that is just goes by the name of inflation—more money around but it purchasing power dwindling. Some feel better off under inflation. The market value of a home bought 10 years ago is way up, the dollar sales volume of many stores and factories are, too, the pay check of the steel worker is much more impressive today. They may believe that "a little inflation is a good thing."

Those who save for a rainy day, those who want to build new homes, factories or schools, fear that what we have now may grow into chronic inflation and become the big bad wolf of our age. Economists and politicians are squabbling today over varying definitions of "inflation", and over whether what we are seeing today is really "inflation" at all or a wage-price spiral that is just one of the consequences of past inflation. Here are some definitions of classic inflation, of hidden inflation, of creeping inflation, of wage-push, demand-pull, and profit-push inflation. Classic inflation is the kind we had during World War II when new money and credit was created in great quantities to finance the defense effort, while output of consumer goods was cut sharply. It resulted in too much money chasing too few goods. To keep prices from rising sharply the government tried direct controls on wages and prices.

A variant on classic inflation comes when people lose faith in their currency and rush to change it into commodities, forcing the government to turn on the printing presses—as happened in Germany after World War I. Classic inflation is what governments often turn to when government spending is high and rising. Hidden inflation is when prices aren't changed but the quality or size of a product deteriorates — the five cent candy bar goes pygmy.

Creeping inflation is a term coined to describe what has been happening the last year or so — prices go up a nickel or a dime at a time first on one thing and then on another, so that the purchasing power of a dollar dwindles. In terms of purchasing power of the 1940, or "100 cent" dollar, the 1956 dollar bought only 60.5 cents worth and today's buys only 49.8 cents worth.

INDIAN GUIDE? — A favorite play spot for children in Royal Oak, Mich., is this crooked old tree which may be one of the few living relics left by the Indians who roamed the area 200 years ago. Some residents believe that the oak tree, now so warped it resembles a prehistoric animal with a yawning mouth, is so-called Indian guide tree. Legend states that the Indians bent young saplings to mark turns in trails. A similarly bent tree near Brighton, Mich., and another near Sandusky, Ohio, were believed to be the last ones left.

Management seeks more profits to help finance still more plant building and equipment buying. Demand-pull inflation is where supply would seem adequate except for unusual demand. This term is used today to describe what is happening to money. The money managers point out that actually there is more money around and more credit added debt on the books than ever before in peace time. But the demand for goods, particularly capital goods, and for credit to finance their purchase is even greater—thus pulling interest rates up, and also the price of these capital goods, too.

Because money is being kept tight, the money managers say there is no "classic inflation" now. But the average man just knows that prices are going up and the dollar shrinking — by whatever name you call it.

Tomorrow: Various causes cited for today's inflation.

PIPE LINES INSTALLED NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—Work has been completed in laying two 16-inch pipelines across the Ohio River at Cresap to supply nearby Ohio communities and industries with natural gas. Eventually, 21½ miles of new gas line, at an estimated cost of $1,160,000 will feed gas into the area. The lines will carry gas to a 50 million dollar aluminum industry development south of Clarington, Ohio. Under construction are an aluminum reduction plant to be owned jointly by Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and Revere Copper and Brass, Inc.; and an aluminum fabricating plant for Olin Mathieson.

Strange new "tools" of atomic-electric power

These are some of the strange new "tools" used to produce, test, or experiment with atomic-electric power. They are among the things that will help bring electricity from the atom.

"Tools" like these are being used in developing several atomic-electric plants now under way. Electric light and power companies from many parts of the country are working with each other and with equipment manufacturers and the Atomic Energy Commission to develop the plants.

For more than 75 years, America's independent electric light and power companies have produced more electricity than any other nation in the world. And they have helped develop ways to produce it more efficiently year after year. That's why you can expect electric companies like this one to continue to do their part to advance the new science of producing electricity from the atom.

3 Persons Absolved Of Escapee's Death

GREENUP, Ky. (AP)—Sheriff Delbert McKenzie said today that lie detector tests have absolved three persons of any connection with the death of a fugitive from the Morrow County Jail at Mount Gilead, Ohio.

The body of John Anderson, 31, of Portsmouth, Ohio, who escaped from the prison in late June, was found on a waste dump near Fullerton, Ky., June 29.

Mrs. Elizabeth Angel of Dayton, Ohio, said that at 3 o'clock on the morning of his death, Anderson appeared at the home of her mother, Mrs. Frances Munn, at South Shore Ky., and compelled Mrs. Angel to drive him to the dump.

Anderson formerly lived in the area and was acquainted with the family. Later in the day, Kenneth Chaffins of Fullerton, a brother of Mrs. Munn, was told of the incident, and found the body.

A shotgun lay nearby and a note indicated Anderson had taken his own life.

McKenzie said that although all three volunteered for the lie test, it was considered essential only for Mrs. Angel and Chaffins to take it. He added that the results in no way incriminated them.

Anderson, who leaves a widow and three children in Portsmouth, was awaiting sentence for attempted safe cracking at Mount Gilead, and also faced five other criminal charges at Portsmouth.

Veterans Guide

(By Veterans Administration)

Q — Can a Korea veteran, holding a GI term insurance policy that doesn't pay dividends, get the total disability income provision added to his policy so that he will receive monthly payments in case he becomes totally disabled?

A — No. Under the law, the total disability income provision may not be added to nonparticipating Korean GI term insurance. It is limited to participating World War II GI policies that do earn dividends.

Q — I just received a raise in salary of $25 a month. I would like to use that extra money to apply to my GI home loan each month, so that I can pay it off ahead of time. Is this possible?

A — A GI home loan may be reduced by extra payments, without penalty. But the minimum extra payment possible is one regular monthly payment, or $100, whichever is less. What you could do is save your salary raise and make an extra mortgage payment when the amount equal one monthly installment, or $100.

Q — I am more than half-way through a correspondence course under the Korean GI Bill, and my GI training entitlement has run out. Is it possible for my entitlement to be extended, so that I can complete my course?

A — Yes. So long as you have completed more than half of your correspondence course, your entitlement may be extended to the end of your particular course unit or for nine weeks — whichever is less.

Q — What is considered a full time course for a young man going to college under the War Orphans Education program?

A — If he is taking undergraduate training, full time consists of at least 14 semester hours a week. If he is in graduate training, VA will accept a certificate of the school as to whether his schooling is full-time.

Gum tragacanth (available in drug stores) is often added to salad dressings made from oil, vinegar and seasonings to obtain a stable emulsion. The gum tragacanth may be dissolved either in hot or cold water, although it dissolves most rapidly in the former.
